Site Selection* Claims Multiple MAGS Awards

ATLANTA, Ga. – Site Selection magazine has been named the winner of three MAGS GAMMA Awards, courtesy of the Magazine Association of the Southeast. The awards were announced at the MAGS Annual Conference in Atlanta on April 30.

Site Selection claimed the Silver GAMMA Award for Best Single Issue, awarded to the November 2008 edition of the magazine, along with Honorable Mention honors for Best Web Site and Best Publication, Overall Excellence.

Site Selection competed in the large Business-to-Business magazine category, going head to head against the largest business magazines in the Southeastern U.S.

“The three MAGS GAMMA Awards are testament once again to the outstanding leadership of Site Selection Editor-in-Chief Mark Arend and his team of veteran journalists and design personnel,” said Ron Starner, general manager of Conway Data Inc., the Norcross-based company that publishes Site Selection. “We are competing for major journalism awards against the best and biggest business magazines in the Southeast, and we are more than holding our own.

“Winning these awards is further evidence that Site Selection is doing an exemplary job of meeting the needs of high-level, sophisticated readers engaged in the corporate real estate and economic development sectors,” Starner added. “Site Selection keeps getting better and better, and that’s not easy to do when you have a 55-year legacy of historic accomplishment to live up to. Founder and Chairman Mac Conway set a very high standard for all of us to follow.”

Published six times a year by Conway Data, Site Selection reaches 44,000 professionals engaged in facility location decision-making. The publication’s official website, SiteNet, reaches about 100,000 visitors per month with timely news and information on corporate real estate and economic development. Conway Data also manages the Industrial Asset Management Council, a professional association serving the industry of corporate industrial real estate. IAMC has about 500 members and convenes twice annually for professional forums at various destinations around the country.
